HER MONOPOLY

She Held the Trump Card In Happenings of All Kinds.

"What is the reason Mrs. Lawton, with all her good points, is so unpopular?" asked the sprightly young visitor of her aunt, Miss Euphemia Boggs. "I'm sure she is kind hearted and generous and capable and good natured."

"She's a monopolist, or thinks she is," snapped Miss Boggs, "and folks don't like it."

"A monopolist?" repeated her niece. "What do you mean, Aunt Phemy?"

"I mean just what I say," said Miss Boggs firmly. "She's a monopolist of diseases and accidents and happenings of every kind. Start in to tell her about an attack of rheumatism you've had or a sprained wrist or your cousin's diphtheria or a railroad disaster you've read about or how your stovepipe fell apart or what an unusual drought they've been having where your brother lives, and she'll sit on the edge of her chair looking as if she'd burst till you stop for breath.

"Then when you do stop she'll say: 'You can't tell me anything about rheumatism;' or, 'The doctor said he never saw a sprain like mine;' or, 'I guess you've never heard how I hung between life and death for weeks with diphtheria;' or, 'No railroad accident sounds like much to me after what I passed through in Ohio when the bridge broke;' or, 'I haven't got anything to learn about what stovepipes can do after my experience two years ago;' or, 'I presume it's slipped your mind that I was in California at the time of that terrible drought, the worst that's ever been known.'"

"And does she make up stories," asked Miss Euphemia's niece in amazement, "stories to fit all such times?"

"Make 'em up?" said Miss Boggs testily. "She don't have to make 'em up. That's what irritates folks so. Everything she says is true. And you take a town like this, about all we've got to be proud of is what happens to us."—Youth's Companion.

A Witty Retort.

The first premier of New Zealand was a witty and eloquent Irishman, James Edward Fitzgerald.

On his first election he was subjected to much interruption at the hustings by a butcher, who enjoyed a dual notoriety as a heckler in local politics and as owner of the first sausage machine imported into the new settlement.

The crowd wearied of his interjections and heckled him in turn, and at last one man called to him, "Leave politics and go back to your sausage machine!"

"If I had the candidate in my sausage machine I'd make mincemeat of him!" cried the excited butcher.

Fitzgerald, with immobile face, retorted, "Is thy servant a dog that thou shouldst do this thing?"

His Excuse.

Mike is a married man—a very much married man. He has married no fewer than four times, and all his wives are still to the fore. According to Michael's own account at the Dublin assizes, where he was tried for bigamy and found guilty, his experiences have not been altogether satisfactory. The judge in passing sentence expressed his wonder that the prisoner could be such a hardened villain as to delude so many women. "Yer honor," said Mike apologetically, "I was only thryin' to get a good one, an' it's not aisy!"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Manx Taxes.

In the matter of taxation the Isle of Man is unique. There is no income tax and no succession duties chargeable against the estates of deceased persons. Roads are manipulated by the revenue from two sources—a small tax upon every wheel and shod hoof and a levy upon every male inhabitant, who must give a day's work on the road or its equivalent in cash. There are no stamp duties on receipts, checks, promissory notes, etc. In fact, stamps are used only for postage. The island has no pawnshops.

His Only Knowledge.

"Where is the board of health?" inquired the stranger who had been wandering aimlessly about the city hall.

"I can tell you where it isn't," replied the dyspeptic looking man.

"Eh?"

"It isn't at Mrs. Starvem's. I know that much, because that's where I board." — Philadelphia Ledger.

York's Lady Mayoress.

A privilege belongs to the lady mayoress of York by immemorial custom. It is the right to have the prefix "lady" before her name for the rest of her life. A local rhyme runs:

The mayor is a lord for a year and a day.
But his wife is a lady forever and aye.

WHEN BOYS FIGHT.

Incident That Carries Every Man Back to Barefoot Days.

Although victory, actual or prospective, of course never was doubtful (either you were winning or the other fellow was winning, according as to which did the telling), at sometimes it appeared to a spectator more decisive than at others.

You were feeling very spunky that noon when amid your preserves you descried a stranger boy, but civilly you challenged him. One may witness two bluff but wary fox terriers thus approach each other, accost and investigate.

"Hello!" you wagged—that is, said.

"Hello, yourself!" wagged he.

"Say, what's your name?" you inquired, as you had every right to do.

"Puddin' tame, ask me again, an' I'll tell you the same," he replied insolently.

At the unmerited rebuff you stiffened.

"Better not give me any of your sass!" you growled.

"Pooh! What'll you do?" he growled back.

"I'll show you what I'll do."

"You couldn't hurt a flea."

"I couldn't, couldn't I?"

"Naw, you couldn't, 'couldn't I.'"

Walking circles around each other, after this fashion you and he sowed crimination and recrimination, while larger and larger waxed an audience, hopeful of seeing them spring up as blows.

Only when the flurry came did you discover too late how much taller and stronger and older than you he was. Your bleeding nose showed this to you, and, cowed and weeping, you retreated in bad order.

"I'll tell my big brother, and he'll fix you!" you growled threateningly.

"Aw, he ain't got any big brother," jeered the heartless crowd, who saw no pathos in your abused organ.

This was true. You had none.

"I'll tell my father, then," you wailed angrily—another empty boast. And, still sniffling and fearsomely gory, with the handkerchiefs of yourself and your one faithful companion quite exhausted, you reached the haven of a friendly pump.

You had not been whipped—not exactly.

"Got licked, didn't you?" unkindly commented various friends and enemies.

"I didn't, either!" you asserted, indignant. "I had to quit 'cause my nose was bleedin'. It takes more'n him to lick me."

"He gave you a bloody nose, just the samee."

You would not admit so much as that.

"He didn't either. He never touched my nose. It bleeds awful easy. It bleeds sometimes when you just look at it—don't it, Hen?"—Edwin L. Sabin in Century.

His Disability.

The lawyer was examining him concerning his qualifications as a juror.

"Have you ever served on a jury?" he asked.

"No, sir," answered the man. "I've been drawn a good many times, but I was always too smart to get caught on a jury."

"What's that, sir?" interrupted the judge sternly. "Do you boast of your smartness in escaping jury duty?"

"No, your honor," said the man. "Not at all. When I said I was too smart, I meant that I was always excused because the lawyers thought I wasn't ignorant enough."—Chicago Tribune.

He Was Going to Be Something.

A colored man in Philadelphia requested his employer to release him so that he could go south.

"What do you want to go for, Lafayette?"

"Cos I's called to a church down dar."

"Called to a church? What are you going to be?"

"I's goin' to be sumfin. I dunno whedder I be de pasture or de sextant or de vestureman, but I's goin' to be sumfin."—Success.

Sure to Do It.

"And you say you saw the man knocked insensible by footpads and deliberately left him in that condition in a lonely place?"

"Sure, that's just what I did. I knew he'd come 'round all right."

"What reason had you to be so certain that he'd come 'round?"

"Reason! Why, the man was a bill collector." — New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Not So Many.

A clergyman, having performed the marriage ceremony of a couple, undertook to write out the usual certificate; but, being in doubt as to the day of the month, he asked, "This is the ninth, is it not?" "Why, parson," said the blushing bride, "you do all my marrying, and you ought to remember that this is only the fourth."

TRIED TO BE IMMORTAL.

But Louis XIV. Foiled Louvois' Efforts on Each Occasion.

Very few people are aware that Louis XIV.'s great and vain war minister, Louvois, under whom the Hotel des Invalides was built, was anxious to immortalize himself by having his coat of arms carved side by side with those of the "Roi Soleil," but that the king on learning of it had them effaced. Foiled in this, Louvois left a secret clause in his will ordering that his remains be deposited in the vault of the Invalides, which order was complied with by the then curate, M. de Mauroy. Again the king frustrated the proud man's design by having the body removed.

As though he had had a presentiment of this posthumous ostracism, Louvois had taken other measures to leave an enduring souvenir of himself in connection with the historical edifice. He prevailed upon a sculptor, who stood too much in awe of the powerful minister to dare refuse, to carve the crests of five of the oeil de boeuf mansardes on the eastern wing, overlooking the Coeur d'Honneur, in the following fashion:

On the head of a wolf (loup) resting on his paws and looking down into the yard, thus making the play of the words on his name "Loupvoit," the other four representing a panache of ostrich plumes, the attributes of a grand seigneur; a powder barrel in the act of exploding, as a symbol of war; an owl and a bat, the two latter the emblems of vigilance, a virtue that was his special boast. These souvenirs, carved in stone, are there today and may interest many a visitor. When, after Louvois' death, the king heard of this petty combination of vanity, he is said to have uttered, with a shrug of his shoulders: "Poor fellow! That is just like him."

A Queer Custom.

In certain cities of high civilization one has to pay for the privilege of being run over instead of recovering damages for injuries so received. So the administration of what is called justice in India may prove rather exacting to the criminal.

Several natives were arrested there on suspicion of having committed a crime. They were imprisoned, but before they came to trial the real culprit confessed his guilt.

The story was told to Sir Montagu Gerard, who asked:

"Well, have the poor fellows been released?"

"No," said the native officer who brought the news, "certainly not, until they have paid up."

"Paid up? For what?"

"Oh, a present must be provided for the court for the trouble of arresting them."

Wanted a Demonstration.

"John," said Mrs. Makepeace, coming out on the back porch where her husband sat tilted back in his chair, his feet on the railing, "didn't I hear you tell the minister when he was here that you were deeply interested in temperance movements?"

"Yes," Mr. Makepeace replied rather stiffly. "I said so, and you know that I am."

"Well," said Mrs. Makepeace, "suppose you go and make a few of them on the pump handle. I want a pail of water."

Life at Stake

Somewhere in the world life is at stake every minute of the day. Right at our own doors, perhaps, is going on a struggle as grim and fierce as any fight or flight on record. You hear the hollow tearing cough; see the ooze of blood which tells of the wounded lungs; mark the emaciated body and hectic cheek, and know a life is at stake.

The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has saved many a life in just such a crisis. It cures obstinate, deep-seated coughs, stops the hemorrhage, strengthens "weak" lungs, and restores the emaciated body to its normal weight and strength.

There is no alcohol in the "Discovery," and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

"I desire to send you this brief, unsolicited testimonial," writes Rev. Joseph H. Fesperman, Barium Springs, Iredell Co., N. C. "In 1898 one of my daughters was suffering on account of a severe cough, hectic fever, wasting of flesh and other symptoms of diseased lungs. I promptly gave her Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery with gratifying success, and she now enjoys excellent health. This experience caused me to recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to my neighbors, who, without exception, used them with favorable results."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only, or if cloth bound volume is desired send 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE.

Sonoma, Sonoma County, Cal., July 23, 1904.

H. H. GRANICE, EDITOR.

UNDER the head of "What is doing in local politics," the Press-Democrat of Santa Rosa says, among other things, that A. Pinelli, who is a member of the Board of Trustees of this city, is being mentioned as a candidate on the Republican ticket for Supervisor of the First district. Mr. Pinelli, upon being interviewed, emphatically stated that he is not an aspirant for the office and under no condition would he accept the nomination if tendered him. Our esteemed contemporary also mentions the names of Harry Weise of Glen Ellen and B. F. Campbell of this place, whose claims for the nomination of supervisor on the Republican ticket are being urged by their friends. We have not had the opportunity to interview these two latter, but make bold to assert that if Harry Weise wants the nomination he can get it. Under the same head the Press Democrat also remarks that in the Fourteenth Assembly District Chas. O. Dunbar will, undoubtedly, be re-nominated by the Democrats for Assemblyman without opposition. We are not so sure about that. If we are not misinformed the Democrats of Sonoma Valley will present the name of Robt. P. Hill before their convention. He has been prominently mentioned in connection with that office for the past six years and report says that he has always given way to Santa Rosa and will probably do the same this year. Mr. Hill is mighty good-natured and no one could possibly associate him with standing in anybody's way for political preferment in the councils of his own party. However, should he ever be given a place on the Democratic ticket the other fellow would have to stand from under, sure. For Robert Hill is a very popular man.

THERE is only one reliable newspaper advertising medium in the Sonoma Valley. That is THE SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE, which has the circulation and entree into the homes of the section which it represents. This paper does not represent a town clique of half-a-dozen people, but is the true exponent of the interests of Sonoma, Embarcadero, Schellville, Vineburg, El Verano, Agua Caliente, Glen Ellen and every nook and cranny of the beautiful Sonoma Valley, as its columns amply testify to. The fact that this newspaper has been under the present management for twenty years and has made and is still making money for its advertising patrons as well as for its owner is evidence enough that it is the newspaper for the people. For one thing sure the INDEX-TRIBUNE is not for sale and does not change hands every six or eight month in a year. Furthermore its policy is mapped out right in this office. That is why its opinions are respected and it is looked up to as the champion of the rights of the people of both town and valley; for all of which we are truly grateful.

A DISPATCH from Berlin asserts without qualification that a brood of chickens has been hatched by a cat in Buschen, near Dusseldorf. The animal flew at the old hen each time it ventured to approach and continued sitting on the eggs until the chickens were hatched in the ordinary course. The chickens now follow the cat about wherever it goes.

A TEACHER in an East-Side school, in trying to explain the meaning of the word slowly, illustrated it by walking across the floor. When he asked the class to tell him how he walked, a boy at the foot of the class shouted "bowlegged, sir."—July Lippincott.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

Their financial responsibility is well known to every newspaper publisher and druggist in the United States, with most of whom they have done business for over a third of a century. From this fact it will readily be seen how utterly foolish it would be for them to make the above unprecedented and remarkable offer if they were not basing their offer on curative means having an unparalleled record. No other medicine than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription could possibly "win out" as the saying goes, on such a proposition. But they know whereof they speak. They have the most remarkable record of cures made by this world-famed remedy ever placed to the credit of any preparation especially designed for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments. This wonderful remedy, therefore, stands absolutely alone as the only one possessed of such unrivaled curative properties as fully warrant its makers in publishing the remarkable offer above made in the utmost good faith.

$3,000 FORFEIT will also be paid in lawful money of the United States, by the officers of the World's Dispensary Medical Association, if they cannot show the original signature of each individual volunteering the testimonials below, and also of the writers of every testimonial among the thousands which they are constantly publishing, thus proving their genuineness and the superiority of these medicines.

WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Proprietors, BUFFALO, N. Y.

Mrs. Maggie McFarland, of Taswell, Ind., writes: "Two years ago my health began to fail and I was hardly able to walk around. I broke down, then trouble of a special nature set in and I suffered severely from falling of womb. Had heart trouble till I could not sit up; was confined to bed all the time. After I had been in bed two weeks undertook to get up but found I could not. My husband called the doctor, but his medicine only made me weaker and worse; I was having a chill every day, and it seemed as though I would die. We called another doctor who said he could cure me in three weeks, and when he found he could not do so he said I had "hysterics," and urged me to use a supporter, which only made me worse. I was almost crazy and prayed to die and get out of my suffering. Was so poor I was only a skeleton, when one day I chanced to pick up a little Memorandum Book and reading of Dr. Pierce's medicines resolved to write him concerning my case. He wrote me a kind letter. I purchased his medicine and began taking it, soon began to feel better; the weak quivering in my bowels stopped and the pain in my side became less. Continued the treatment until I had taken about six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and one box of Dr. Pierce's Suppositories. I am now doing the work for a family of eight. Can walk to the store and carry my baby three miles. Can sleep well, and life is worth living. I cannot praise Dr. Pierce's medicines too highly. Hope others also will take Dr. Pierce's medicines and be cured, and that this statement may be the means of many suffering ones applying to you for relief.

"I know of a man in our vicinity whose neighbors and friends thought he would die, but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cured him. Know also of others who have been benefited by the use of your medicines."

Mrs. Mamie Patterson, of 42 Hedden Place, Elizabeth, N. J., says: "About one year ago I wrote to Dr. Pierce and he advised me what to do. It is hard for me to say just what my trouble was. Was nervous; had sick headaches, backache, pain in small of back, had no appetite, pain in my left side. I was a complete wreck. I had tried many doctors and did not get well, so had given up the thought of ever getting better. I have taken eight bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' and to-day feel like a new woman. Have advised several of my friends to use Dr. Pierce's medicines and they have done so and received much benefit. I am thankful to you for your advice, and also for what your wonderful medicines have done for me. May the blessing of God ever rest upon you. I gladly send you this testimonial."

...CHELLVILLE

The Track and Roadbed Were Torn Up and Made Impassable for Hours.

A construction train of the Southern Pacific Company was derailed near Schellville last Tuesday morning. Several loaded cars left the track and ripped the road bed to pieces for a considerable distance. The road was rendered impassable and the mails and passengers due here were delayed several hours.

The engineer and fireman of the construction train remained at their posts while the cars were leaving the track and, after running several hundred yards, brought the engine and one car attached to it to a standstill. These, together with the caboose at the end of the train, did not leave the track.

The damage to the construction cars was slight, the principal damage being to the rails and roadbed.

SONOMA CREEK CLAIMS ANOTHER VISITING VICTIM.

Ten-year-old Boy Drowns in Swimming Hole Close to El Verano

Joseph Brown, a ten-year old lad, lost his life in Sonoma Creek on Sunday afternoon last between 2 and 3 o'clock.

The child had been playing on the banks of the stream when he tripped and fell into a pool of water about nine feet in depth. Louis Mouze, a young man from San Francisco, and several women were eye witnesses of the drowning. Mouze, on discovering the child's perilous position, plunged into the water without removing any of his garments and made every effort to rescue the drowning boy, but the lad had gone down for the third time before his rescuer could reach his side. Mouze, however, recovered the body and brought it to shore. Medical aid was summoned but life was found to be extinct.

The drowning of little Joseph Brown is a particularly sad one owing to the fact that he had come up from San Francisco but a few hours before his death to spend his vacation.

The dead boy's father is a prominent fireman of San Francisco.

Town Improvements.

Many improvements have been made in this place the past few months and many more are contemplated.

This week a force of carpenters commenced work on Wm. McElroy's Broadway residence, which will be quite a pretentious affair. The contractor, Mr. B. P. Norris, expects to have the edifice ready for occupancy inside of ninety days.

The Napa street residences of Claude Johnson, G. W. Reed and Geo. Bulotti are nearing completion.

The fine two-story stone building being erected on Napa street by Contractor Eugenio Allemano for Mr. and Mrs. A. Castex, is now ready for the plasterers. This building will be occupied by the owners as a bakery and residence.

Herman Laux's two-acre place on Second street East has been further beautified by the erection of a fine picket fence three hundred feet in length. The fence has been handsomely painted and adds much to the appearance of the property, which is supplied with water from a fine flowing artesian well.

Garden Party at "Cosy Cottage."

The garden party to be given in aid of the new Catholic Church of Glen Ellen on the beautiful grounds of "Cosy Cottage," the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. C. O'Donnell, this evening, will eclipse anything of the kind ever attempted in this valley. In addition to other attractions a literary and musical program will be presented in which the following San Francisco talent will take part: Miss Montague, fancy dancer; Miss Troy and sister, vocalists; Billy Hines, the well-known comic singer, is also expected to be present. Mr. Hines, who has frequently appeared in Sonoma and Glen Ellen, is now the public administrator of the City and County of San Francisco and it is said of him that he actually sang himself into the office, so popular had he made himself with the general public in volunteering at all times to lend his talents to help out charitable entertainments.

Plans for Fountain Are Accepted.

At a meeting of the Woman's Club, held last Saturday, several plans for a stone foundation to be erected in the Plaza by the club were submitted. That of Architect A. C. Lutgens of San Francisco was finally adopted and work on this much-needed improvement will soon be commenced by the club women, who will stand all the expense.

EL VERANO.

By Foxy Grandpa.

L. L. Lewis was a visitor to San Francisco Monday.

Another marriage is on the tapis over this way and "Foxy" expects an invite.

The smiling face of Louis Kearney of Santa Rosa beamed down on our people last Sunday.

Mrs. D. Herlihy and daughter, Miss Loretta, of San Francisco are the guests of Mrs. M. F. Mullen this week.

Thos. Baines, the well-known real estate man of this place, is erecting a neat little cottage on his lot in the southern limits of town.

Miss Ella McLane, a crack rifle shot from San Francisco, left for the metropolis the fore part of the week after spending some time in this place.

Miss S Gould, a charming young lady of San Francisco and who holds a responsible position in the Emporium, is a guest at the French Cottage this week.

Jack Martin, owner of the U. S. Canteen, San Francisco, is a guest at the Villa. Mr. Martin has a host of friends in this place who are glad to see him back for the summer.

Wm. Mullen, after a week's visit with his relatives in this place, left for the metropolis Sunday. During his sojourn among us he succeeded in bagging a hundred and fifty doves.

Arthur S. Whiting, the bicycle dealer and repairer of Sonoma, spent Sunday at El Verano Villa. He was one of the jurors chosen by the coroner to inquire into the death of little Joe Brown, who was drowned in Sonoma Creek on that day.

"Roxy Murphy," Al Weaver's Irish thoroughbred horse, who won a great race on the Sonoma track on the Fourth of July, challenges all comers and it's dollars to doughnuts on "Roxy" as against the field when he is again entered in a race.

A certain 'Frisco cop, who has been stopping at this place for the past week, would make a very good detective, nit, as hammers are very cheap. We would also say that the police department of San Francisco should raise this cop to a sneak detective instead of a sergeant.

The people of this burg are going around with tears in their eyes on account of the merry-go-round man folding his tent to seek pastures new. This wooden-pony man, who inflicted his ear-splitting, tooting infernal machine on a long suffering people, was after "Foxy's" scalp just previous to his departure, claiming that his adverse criticism in last week's INDEX-TRIBUNE had caused him a loss of $200 in patronage.

The political bosses and conniversers of this town are already scheming to run things their way at the Democratic primaries to be held here on the 29th inst. These would-be political leaders are underhanded in their dealings with honest voters and it behooves the Democrats as well as the Republicans of this burg to be on their guard and not be misled by them. Several of these pretended Democrats voted in the Republican primaries two years ago and then sought favors from Democratic officials who were elected at the general election which followed.

THE NEW WATER WORKS IS BEING PUSHED FORWARD

Twenty-Four Men are now Engaged in Laying Six and Four-Inch Iron Pipes

The new water system, which will be inaugurated by the Sonoma City Water Company, it is expected will be in working order the latter part of August.

The new system is being put in under the supervision of Surveyor Press Davis of Santa Rosa, who has a force of twenty-four men engaged in excavating and laying four and six-inch iron pipe, which is to take the place of the 2 inch redwood pipes laid down many years ago.

Mrs. Emparan and Mrs. Cutter, daughters of the late Gen. Vallejo who inaugurated the old system of water works in the town over thirty years ago, who succeeded to the ownership a number of years ago, have taken hold of the water proposition with a vim and energy that is bound to inure to the benefit of the entire town.

The new system will give the town an abundant supply of pure, cool, sparkling water and will also have a tendency to reduce insurance rates.

Mrs. and Mrs. F. C. Poulson went to San Francisco on Sunday last. On the following day Mrs. Poulson underwent a very dangerous operation in St. Luke's Hospital. A large tumor was removed from her side by the surgeons and at latest accounts she was in a fair way to recovery. Mr. Poulson returned from the metropolis Monday evening.

A great treat is in store for those who attend the entertainment at Union Hall next Friday evening. The farce to be presented is full of all kinds of funny situations and will make you laugh throughout its recital. There will be fancy dancing and singing by a number of talented children of Sonoma. Ice cream, candy and lemonade booths, grab bag and a general good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dresel returned from their outing in Shasta county last Saturday. Mr. Dresel reports big game plentiful in that section and brought back with him the hide of a big cinnamon bear which fell a victim to his unerring aim. Mr. Dresel left Wednesday for Guerneville, near which place he will join a party of Sonoma Valley deer hunters, who preceded him a week ago.

Marriage of Pretty Grand-Child of Gen. Vallejo.

The marriage of Miss Alma Cutter, one of the pretty granddaughters of Gen. M. E. Vallejo, and Mr. Norman Hodgkissan took place Friday of last week in Napa. The young bride is plump and pretty, of a charming personality and is highly accomplished. She is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Cutter of San Francisco. The groom is a young man well known in the metropolis, where he expects to take his fair young bride in the near future. The happy young people are now being entertained by their aunt, Mrs. Natalie Harasthy.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years it was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer $100 for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address

DISCHARGED GUN ON COUNTY ROAD NEAR VERANO.

Offender Pleads Guilty and is Fined $15 by Judge Small

Peter Dormi, a summer man from San Francisco came to grief the other day. It happened in this manner. Dormi, who had evidently been reading about President Roosevelt and his bear and panther hunts in the wilds of the Rocky Mountains, came to the valley for an outing, bringing his ordnance with him in the shape of a twenty-two caliber rifle. Shortly after his arrival, armed with his gun, he went out in quest of game and it came mighty near being big game, too.

Upon reaching a point on the county road near Verano station Dormi drew a bead on a lark sitting on a nearby fence. Of course he missed the bird but he came within an ace of winging big Adam Adler, who was driving along the road in his rubber-tired rig. Mr. Adler, who is almost as big as a bear and weighs 240 pounds, as the ball from the rifle whizzed past his ear, ducked his head, drove into town and swore out a warrant for the reckless hunter's arrest for discharging fire arms on a public thoroughfare.

The warrant which, by the way, was the first one issued on the new ordinance recently passed by the Supervisors, was placed in Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan's hands and Wednesday morning Mr. Dormi and his little gun were hailed before Justice of the Peace Small. The mighty hunter, who came so near bagging Mr. Adler, seeing that ignorance of the law was no excuse in the courts, wisely plead guilty to the charge and was fined $15; the limit being $50 fine or fifty day's imprisonment. Mr. Dormi paid over the coin and will hereafter hunt big game elsewhere than on the county road.

Sonoma Parlor, No 111, N. S. G. W., gave a banquet at the City Hotel last Wednesday evening, the occasion being the 17th anniversary of the institution of the parlor. About forty Native Sons and invited guests assembled around the banquet board and passed a jolly evening in feasting, toasting and speechmaking. Dr. Hartley Gottenberg was toastmaster. Messrs. Peter G. Keil, Gus Marcy and Fred T. Duhring were the committee of Native Sons having the affair in hand. The spread served to the Natives and their guests by mine host Loustalet was all that could be desired by the most exacting of epicures.

LOCAL TELEPHONE SERVICE IS NOW IN FULL SWING.

And Work on the Rural Line Between Sonoma and Embarcadero is Progressing.

A local telephone service is now in full working order and the "Hellos" are very much in evidence. At the present time there are forty subscribers to the service, divided up about equally between business houses and private residences. District Manager Jones of the Sunset Telephone Company was in town yesterday making arrangements for the placing of additional telephone boxes in the houses of subscribers.

Progress is being made on the rural service between this place and Embarcadero and the line will be in operation inside of two weeks.

The people of El Verano are also agitating a rural line to take in their section and it is only a question of time when the entire valley from the shores of San Pablo Bay to Glen Ellen will be connected with the central office in Sonoma. HE SAVED HIS CROPS.

Nebraska Man's Story of the Way He Killed the Grasshoppers.

A gentleman who used to live at University place was growing wheat in southern Nebraska when the grasshoppers struck him. He had a forty acre field of wheat that year, promising a big yield, and the prospect of its having to go to feed his enemies, the grasshoppers, was galling almost beyond endurance. Very soon after the vanguard of the hoppers appeared, however, this gentleman made an entomological discovery that saved his crop.

"I found," he said, "that the grasshoppers were in the habit of climbing the wheat stalks every morning to spend the day feeding on what was intended to feed me and my family. I used to go out to the field to see how they were getting on every morning, and in my impatience at the liberties they were taking with my wheat I would occasionally strike at a clump of them as they hung to a stalk and knock them to the ground.

"After awhile I noticed that when a grasshopper was thus dislodged he made no further effort to get his dinner, but remained on the ground until the regular time to climb the stalk next morning. Immediately on making this important discovery I went and took down our long wire clothesline and called my wife to come and help me. Then we went through that forty acre field, dragging the clothesline over the wheat between us, and knocked all the grasshoppers to the ground. There they stayed till the next day.

"Next morning we gave the hoppers just time enough to get well started up the stalks when we went out and repeated the proceeding of the day before. The result was the same, and in the course of a few days every grasshopper in that field had died of starvation. Our neighbors came out every morning to jeer at us and called us a pair of old idiots, but we harvested the only wheat crop in that part of Nebraska that year."—Nebraska State Journal.

The Ainus of Japan.

Among the hairy Ainus of northern Japan the garments of both sexes are made from the inner bark of the elm tree, which is put into water to soak and to soften, after which it is taken out and the fiber divided into thread and balls. It is then woven into narrow rolls of cloth on a primitive loom. The garments are rough and have a faded brown color. The women are somewhat expert in executing fancy needlework, and in their arrangement of patterns and designs the embroidery and decoration are done with Japanese colored thread upon the groundwork of their own elm bark fabric. In winter the women sew bear, deer and wolf skins over the elm fiber for greater warmth.

Carved Ivories.

In the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries various sculptors in ivory were engaged in carving portions of tusks with classical and other subjects, which were afterward mounted in silver and silver gilt by some of the finest Augsberg and Nuremberg workers and formed vases and tankards. In the eighteenth century various carvings in ivory were made, chiefly of statuettes and small plaques, but none attains to the excellence of the earlier carvings. In modern times the ivory carvings of India have become noted for their minute and delicate work.—Chambers' Journal.

Avenged at Last.

"I'd like that tooth, please," said the small boy after the dentist had extracted the torment.

"Certainly, my little man. But why do you want it?" queried the dentist as he handed it over.

"Well, sir," responded the gratified boy, "I'm going to take it home, and I'm going to put it on a plate, and I'm going to stuff it full of sugar, and then"—with a triumphant and ghoulish savagery—"then I'm going to watch it ache."

Not Public Spirited.

Citiman—What's the matter with all you Swamphurst fellows? You don't seem to like my friend Backlotz.

Subbubs—No, he's selfish.

Citiman—Oh, come now.

Subbubs—That's what he is. A barn near him caught fire the other night, and he put it out without waiting for the rest of us members of the Swamphurst hose to reach the scene.—Philadelphia Press.

Offensively Unappreciative.

"Did you ever hear of such shocking taste!" exclaimed Mrs. Cumrox indignantly.

"What's the matter?" asked her husband.

"People in this hotel have complained they couldn't sleep because Ethelinda played the piano. The idea of anybody's preferring sleep to hearing Ethelinda play!"—Washington Star.

INDIGESTION.

With its companions, heart burn, flatulence, torpidity of the liver, constipation, palpitation of the heart, poor blood, headache and other nervous symptoms, sallow skins, foul tongue, offensive breath and a legion of other ailments, is at once the most widespread and destructive malady among the American people. The Herbine treatment will cure all these troubles. 50c a bottle.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera & Diarrhoea Remedy.

This remedy is certain to be needed in almost every home before the summer is over. It can always be depended upon even in the most severe and dangerous cases. It is especially valuable for summer disorders in children. It is pleasant to take and never fails to give prompt relief. Why not buy it now? It may save life.

For sale by R. G. Shoults.

Good Sponges.

There is a great difference in the quality of sponges. A good bathing sponge has rather coarse pores, but is soft and strong in texture. The most expensive sponges, however, are the tiny ones which have the very finest holes and a silken texture. They are used for washing little children and by surgeons. It is always better to purchase a sponge of a wholesale dealer, who handles them from the original package as they come to market, or from a trustworthy druggist.

The sponges that are very white and clean looking are said to be often the refuse sponges thrown away by hospitals and afterward collected, cleaned and bleached by acid. A sponge that has not been bleached is a brownish yellow or a light yellow in color.

CROUP

Is a violent inflammation of the mucous membrane of the wind pipe which sometimes extends to the larynx and bronchial tubes and is one of the most dangerous diseases of children. It almost always comes on in the night. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's Horehound Syrup and apply Ballard's Snow Liniment externally to the throat. 25c, 50c, $1.00.

Sold by L. S. Simmons, prescription druggist, Sonoma.

Whistling as a Sin.

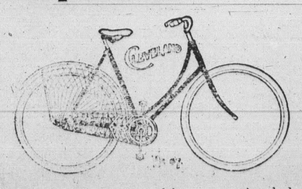

Arabia must be a heaven for those whose lives are made a burden to them by the whistler. The Arab maintains that a whistler's mouth cannot be purified for forty days and nights, and they assert of the whistler that Satan has touched his body and caused him to produce the offensive sound. Then there are the natives of the Tonga islands, Polynesia, who hold that it is a sin to whistle, as it is an act disrespectful to God. Even in some districts in north Germany the villagers declare that if one whistles in the evening it makes the angels weep.

Safeguard the Children.

Notwithstanding all that is done by boards of health and charitably inclined persons, the death rate among small children is very high during the hot weather of the summer months in the large cities. There is not, probably, one case of bowel complaint in a hundred, however, that could not be cured by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

ARTHUR WHITING.

He Preferred to Sell Cattle.

It is a matter of common history that bribery and corruption were largely resorted to in order to effect the union of England and Scotland, which took place in 1707. Lord Seafield, the chancellor of the last Scottish parliament, accepted a gift of £500 to vote for the union and was reproached by his brother for taking this bribe. His lordship retaliated by calling his brother a cattle dealer.

"Weel," was the brother's reply to this taunt, "better sell cattle than nations."

No Trouble.

A Cambridge bedmaker once told a certain don for whom he worked that he was very kind to her and that she was very grateful. The don looked pleased. "I pray for you every night, sir," said the lady. "It is very good of you to think of me, Mrs. Jones," said the don. "Lor', sir," replied the bedmaker affably, "it ain't a mossel of trouble to put your name in along of all the others."—London Globe.

Wholesale Mining.

"Gold is often found in the gizzards of birds shot in the Klondike," observed the man who reads the interesting notes in the papers.

"Yes," said the other man, "and if I were seeking gold I believe I would rather train some of those birds than hire miners."

"Why?"

"Because the miner gets the gold in quartz, but the bird finds it by pecks."—Judge.

Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Ten Years of Suffering.

"I wish to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mrs. Mattie Burge of Martinsville, Va. "I suffered from chronic diarrhoea for ten years and during that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine myself and did not use all of one bottle before I was well and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much in favor of that wonderful medicine."

Therefore, I highly recommend Snow Liniment to all who are troubled with sprains, bruises or rheumatism. 25c, 50c, $1 bottle. Sold by L. S. Simmons, prescription druggist, Sonoma, Cal.
